ABOUT KELLY

Kelly Plaisier brings PGA teaching experience from across the United States since 2007.

She has spent time teaching in Salt Lake City, Chicago, and most recently, Denver.

A former Division I golfer, Kelly earned her Bachelor's Degree in Exercise Science and has developed and refined her teaching style through a life spent in the golf industry.

Kelly spent a year and a half teaching at the prestigious Trent Wearer Golf Academy in 2016 and 2017 where she enhanced her skills teaching next to Trent Wearer, among others.

With her husband and two daughters, Kelly has enjoyed traveling and living across the country. Along with spending time with her family, she loves running, hiking, or doing anything active and outdoors. Her joy for teaching has grown as she enjoys taking golfers of various abilities to the next level in their games.

Contact Kelly for individual lessons, group clinics, or for any other golf instruction needs!
